BIOGRAPHY

Daniel "Pengrapher" Oshundaro, born December 6, 1997, is a multi-award Nigerian multidisciplinary artist focusing on pals, figurative abstract paintings, sculpture, and creative photography. His practice reflects and engages how his individualistic beliefs, aspirations, and personality become attached to the work he creates. His work represents the self-expression of thoughts and experiences from his environs by referencing classical compositions and vintage imageries using a combination of pals, colors, lines, texture, and symbolism. His most used mediums are oils, acrylic, acrylic sprays, and emulsions.

Oshundaro received his BA in Creative Art from the University of Lagos, Nigeria, and his BA in sculpture from the Academy of Arts, Novi sad, Serbia. In addition, Daniel is a current masters degree holder from the prestigious University of Novi Sad at the Academy of Arts, Novi sad, Serbia. He was recently awarded the ERASMUS+ (EU programme for education, training, youth and sport) to study at the Academy of Fine and Applied Arts Bratislava, Slovakia. He has received several media features in publications such as Le Monde, BUSINESSDAY, Dnevnik I, N1 VESTI, The Rwanda Times, the Guardian Nigeria News, Metal magazine, Global Times magazine, and a few more.
